

Employment Law

Koskie Minsky's Employment Law Group is ready and able to assist you in all of your employment needs outside the unionized context.

Our group is one of Canada's best qualified and most successful, with Koskie Minsky LLP having been named by Lexpert as one of the highest ranked firms in the category of Labour, Pensions and Employment Law.

Whether you are a non-unionized employee, or an employer of executives, managers or other non-unionized employees, we can assist you. Our expertise in these complex areas is without peer, as is our passion for the work we do and the clients we are able to assist.

The members of our Employment Law Group possess the highest level of experience and expertise in all facets of employment law and employment related litigation. We have the diversity and depth within our group to provide appropriate, cost effective service on a case-by-case basis.

We have represented both individuals and organizations before all levels of the courts, employment-related tribunals and boards as well as in mediation and arbitration. Our depth of experience coupled with our broad expertise means that the right solution can be found and the proper legal entitlements will be achieved.

For employees, we can provide effective representation and assistance in every aspect of your employment. Learn more...

For employers, our expertise and experience allows us to effectively handle issues involving compliance and best practices, as well as all employment and human rights related matters concerning your organization and your executive, management and other non-unionized employees. Learn more...

No matter what your particular workplace or employment issue might be, we can offer objective, expert advice and assistance in the development of strategies to deal with them effectively, expeditiously and cost consciously.

Feel free to contact us at any time to discuss, in complete confidence, the nature of any employment challenge you may be facing.

View past blog posts.

View past issues of the Employment News Newsletter.