

Professional Negligence and Insurance Litigation

The Professional Negligence and Insurance Litigation practice group at Koskie Minsky brings experience in leading insurance cases, professional malpractice, precedents and policy interpretation. We have successfully argued at the Ontario Court of Appeal the validity of insurance policies and interpretations, and numerous cases involving professional standards.

Details

Koskie Minsky's Professional Negligence and Insurance Litigation practice group represents insurers and their insureds, working at all levels of Ontario Courts, public and professional tribunals. We understand the limitation periods and requirements to process or defend claims, responding promptly, and providing expertise appropriate to the particular requirements of each case.

We are actively involved in coverage aspects of all types of casualty and property policies such as life, disability, automobile, property, marine, transportation, environmental, fidelity, construction, directors and officers and professional errors and omissions. Also, we have particular expertise in "claims made" policy wordings, and defending professional errors and omission claims.
