

Grievance Arbitration

The Labour Law Group at Koskie Minsky is regularly called upon to advise clients about the effective management of the grievance process. We provide strategic and legal advice throughout the grievance procedure, assist in the selection of appropriate arbitrators, conduct effective preparation for arbitration, and appear before arbitrators and arbitration boards.

Our lawyers have both extensive advocacy experience before arbitrators and boards of arbitration and considerable expertise in applying and developing the unique arbitral jurisprudence. We regularly advise and represent clients with respect to private arbitrations under collective agreements and statutory tribunals with jurisdiction over grievances arising in both the public sector (Crown Employees Grievance Settlement Board) and the construction industry (Ontario Labour Relations Board).

Koskie Minsky lawyers have also frequently served as nominees to various arbitration boards.
