

Hollinger Canadian Publishing Holdings Co. (“HCPH”)

We are Representative Counsel to over 3000 retirees and disabled employees of HCPH in its CCAA proceedings. We negotiated the orderly wind-up of the underfunded HCPH pension plans in a difficult annuity market and were successful in achieving the continued payment of full pension benefits without losses for all members of HCPH’s pension plans. We also negotiated a cash distribution on health benefit claims that we prepared and filed for HCPH retirees. We brought a motion to the court to recover funds that had been transferred out of HCPH into a trust fund before the company filed for CCAA protection to pay for the defence costs of directors of Sun Times Media Group in defamation actions brought against them by Conrad Black. This litigation involved highly adversarial proceedings in both Canadian and United States bankruptcy courts. The litigation was settled with $2.95 million being returned to HCPH from the trust fund which will be distributed to retirees and other creditors.
