

SHORT-FORM NOTICE

Are you an Indigenous person who survived the Sixties Scoop but who was not included in the previous class action and settlement?

A class action may affect you. Please read this carefully.

The Federal Court has certified a class action on behalf of all Indigenous persons, excluding Indian persons (as defined in the Indian Act) and Inuit persons, who were removed from their homes in Canada between January 1, 1951 and December 31, 1991 and who were placed in the care of non-Indigenous foster or adoptive parents (the “Class”).

If you meet this definition, you have a choice of whether or not to stay in the Class.

To stay in the Class, you do not have to do anything. If money or benefits are obtained through the class action, you will be notified about how to make a claim. You will be legally bound by all orders and judgments, and you will not be able to sue Canada about the legal claims in this case.

If you do not want to stay in the class action, you must submit an opt out form by November 3, 2021. You can find a copy of the opt out form online here: <https://kmlaw.ca/cases/sixties-scoop-metis-non-status-indian-class-action/>

If you opt out, you will not get money or benefits from this lawsuit if any are awarded.

The Court has appointed Koskie Minsky LLP and Paliare Roland Rosenberg Rothstein LLP (“Class Counsel”) to represent the Class. You don’t have to pay Class Counsel to participate. If money or benefits for the Class are obtained through the class action, Class Counsel may ask for lawyers’ fees and costs, which would be deducted from any money obtained or would be paid separately by Canada.
